

Culture of Respect[®]

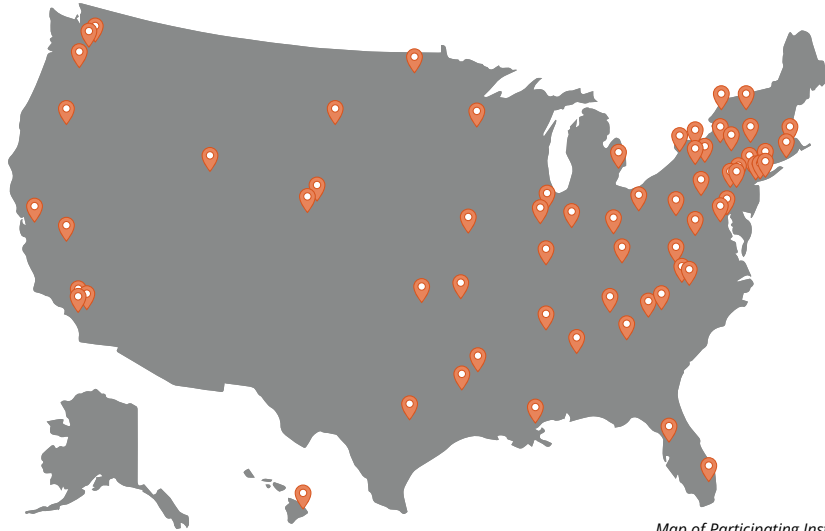

Ending Campus Sexual Violence

A NASPA Initiative

Outcomes from the Culture of Respect Collective Program

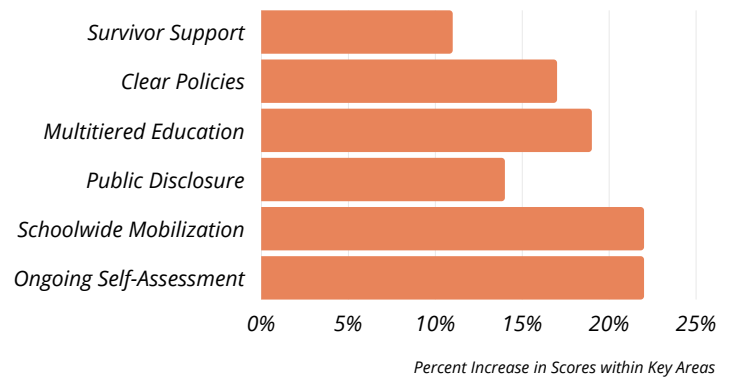

Cohorts 1 and 2

The Culture of Respect Collective, a NASPA signature initiative, is a two-year program designed to address the issue of campus sexual violence. Supported by a comprehensive, evidence-informed framework, the program guides institutions of higher education through a rigorous process of self-assessment and targeted organizational change.

Map of Participating Institutions

Cumulatively, participating institutions' self-assessment scores increased from baseline to endpoint in six key areas identified as priorities by Culture of Respect. These scores reflect substantive changes in programs, policies, and procedures that strengthen institutions' strategies for preventing and responding to sexual violence.

As a result of institutions' participation in the Culture of Respect Collective program...

92%

increased the doses of required prevention programming provided to undergraduate students

87%

agreed that the components of the program were effective in helping their institution identify areas for growth and improvement

85%

of goals set at baseline were completed or in progress at the conclusion of the program

77%

reported participation in the Collective increased collaboration between departments and colleagues

Learn more at CultureofRespect.org